IMPROVED CRUSHING MACHINE C. H. COODMAN'S Latest Improvement in

MACHINERY FOR CRUSHING, GRIND-ING, AND TRITURATING one, Minerals, Pyrites, and Ores of every, kind (dry or wet), Granite, Flint, Concrete, Potters' Rough Stuff, Cement, Chemicals, &c.,

Also for Washing and Separating Metals from Ores, and Amalgamating Gold from Quartz.

This apparatus, from its many advantageous quali-ties, viz., Simplicity, Efficiency, and Chrapness, combined with Superabundant Strength, is rendered equal to the roughest work, likewise being comparatively light and easy of transit. The machine stands alone and UNRIVA LED IN THE WORLD. If the material is no required to be reduced finer than rough sand, or fine gravel, it may be worked or purchased without the Triturator, the same only being used in the production of fine powder. Likewise, the washing or amalgamating dish will only be needed when ores and or amalgamating dish will only be needed when ores and quartz are in question.

The importance attached to this Machine is, that it is not applicable to one object only.—Its advantages may be snimed up thus:—

Ist.—The crusher consists of a horizontal ram, mounted loosely on an eccentric, by means of which a crushing and grinding movement is attained.

2nd—The material is reduced to its required size by simply setting the fixed face.

3rd—The two acting faces are moveable, and can be replaced in a few minutes at a trifling cost, which does not amount to one hundredth part the cost and trouble of rollers.

not amount to one hundredth part the cost and trouble of rollers.

4th—Where the triturator is required, the material passes over a vibrating sieve (as seen in the fillustration), the fine falling through, and the coarse passing into the disc hopper, where it becomes reduced to powder.

5th—Where washing and amalgamating powers are required, the finely ground quartz is discharged into the dish containing quicksilver, wherein water is constantly poured, the whole being stirred by means of routers, and the mud and tailings pass off into a sluice attached to the lip of the dish intended to catch what precious metal may have escaped amalg. mation. the np or the dish, have a male mation.

It may also be necessary to state the Triturating discs are constructed in such a way as to admit of long wear, d will work to the last without the slightest injury e quality or fineness of the material. Extract from "The Engineer," May 12, 1871, page 3207

"The ram-head works against a fixed toothed face, and, if there were nothing more, stones put into the hopper would be simply crushed between the two—much as in Blake's machine. But here the similarity ends. It has been found that what we may best term a chewing action materially ficilitates the breakage of the stones, and this chewing action is obtained by mounting the ram-head and its thrust-bar or handle on an eccentic close to the head. The motion attained by the use of this ecentric produces the precise effect required very efficiently. All the arrangements are very simple and mechanical, and the machine appears to have nothing about it to get out of order. We were much pleased with it."

COWICHAN RIVER.

Mr. Smithe moved the following resolution: That an humble address be presented to His Excellency the Lieutenant-Governor, praying that he will move the Dominion Government to take such steps as shall be necessary to clear out the log-piles in the Cowichan

Mr. Smithe, in moving the resolution, said: The evil resulting from the floods caused by these piles had become so great, that it had become imperatively necessary that some action be taken in order to have them cleared out; unless these piles were cleared out of the river, it would be useless to expend money on any part of the road in the vicinity of the inasmuch as the floods would wash river, inasmuch as the floods would wash away the bridges and destroy the roads, as had been done within the last month, to an extent, making the road impassable. He was not certain whether it was a matter for the the Hon. Chief Commissioner of Lands and Works that it was. One thing he wished particularly to be borne in mind, that the iver must be cleared by somebody. The resolution evoked considerable discussion as to whether it was a matter for the Pederal or Local Gevernment.

Mr. Smithe explained the nature of the some of the Government members would have tion. Since he came down a large flood had occurred doing a great deal of damage to property. Some portions of the river would admit of large river steamers, and they could or 70 yards in width.

COLORED JURORS.

Dr. Ash moved the following resolution: That an humble address be presented to His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor, praying that he will be pleased to instruct the High Sheriff to summon in due course all persons liable to serve on juries, irrespective of color.

Dr. Ash stated that the colored people of the Province felt it a grievance that they are not allowed to serve as jurors; it must be said that nearly all of them are loval British subjects; many of them intelligent, No member of the House, he thought, would object to see colored men sitting on a jury. He lieved the jury lists were improperly made out, and because of a prejudice on account of color. The question is—shall colored people have equal rights with other people? He adverted to the system, &c., of trial by jury. Mr. J. P. Booth seconded the resolution It is all well enough to say that people should stay in their own place; were we under, we

Mr. R. Smith always thought that peopletried to keep away from juries, and he be-lieved they would be doing a great injustice to the colored people if they were to be placed

Hon. Mr. Walkem very clearly said the resolution could not be entertained by the Executive. It could only srise where the Sheriff neglected to do his duty. The Hongentlemen referred to the remarks as stated by Mr. Smith, when,

Mr. Smith humorously got up and called the gentleman to order; his name was not "Smith" in this House.

Mr Beaven supported the resolution as an expression of the pinion of the House on the bent. stbject; it would be beneficial to citizens of Mr. the class in question. Mr. Armstrong pointed out a way of get-ting over the difficulty by passing an act. He could not see how the sheriff could be interfered with, and the House should not think of passing the resolution. Mr. Smithe supported the resolution, that if passed, it would indirectly have the effect aimed at. It was thoroughly un English that solored people should not be allowed to serve on juries; they have an equal right to serve, as white people.

THOSE PORTFOLIOS. - From a statement in the House last evening, it appears the Gov. Mansell & Holroyd, the well known cabinet ernment do not, for the present, propose to makers and house furnishers, Yates street, fill the two vacant portfolios.

THE Estimates consideration, in the Legslature, drags its slow length along. Tus New Westminster Herald missed Enterprise, last trip.

Mr. Bunster thought that $300 was enough, and made an amendment to that effect. Several members of the House opposed the amendment, and highly eulogised the very efficient manner in which the clerk did his duty, adding that there was not a member of the House who object to sit side by side with colored people. He hoped the special pleadings of the Hou. Attorney General and Chief Commissioner would not be listened to. He took the trouble to find out the proper course. He had no doubt the object would be gained were the resolution passed in this House. What an outcry would be raised if only those were allowed to serve on juries, who were Expenses of Elections, $7,500 passed. Con-lagent Fund, $1,100 passed.

Sumas; the farmers in that neighborhood this evening, Baron Redesdale gave notice have bound themselves to support him for that he would introduce a motion, declaring three years. The New Westminster Volumit is the common interest of all nations to dewere allowed to serve on juries, who were receiving $3,600 a year? Laughter. It is to be under the Dominion Government, are to remedy a wrong, he asked the House to support the resolution.

Mr. Beaven said the Sheriff's list was one which was in existence for a number of years.

Supreme Court Registrar, $1,940, passed; the received by the Begistrars of to be under the Dominion Government, are beginning to get slightly disorganized. The Guardian recommends the Local Government indemnities for damages done by belligerents.

Local Government of the recommon interest of all nations to decide whether, when belligerents have been recognised and become nations, they can detect the court, members being all opposed to their receiving anything above their salaries.
